ROBERTS' PLEA. Parley.

Washington, Dec. 13.—A summary of Congressman Roberts' defense is as From the established doctrines and rights of members of congress, it folcommittee would be subversive of the rights of the member from Utah. First-In that he is to be adjudged guilty of crime without due process of law.

Second-That he is to be adjudged disqualified by disabilities created by enactments of congress and applicable to the old territory of Utah but not applicable to the state of Utah, which of his peers within the state and district where the crime is alleged to have been committed and wound deprive him of property and rights without due process of law. The member from Utah, therefore, asks the committee to stop present proceedings and consider the prima facle right of the representative of the house of representatives of the house of t

McDougall, May 27, 1899; Misdates belong several months prior to the departure of the representative from Utah for the east. More than a year after charges began to be made against him, the member from Utah was in and about Safe Lake all the time and seven months after the Bandon affidavits were drawn up by A. T. Schroeder; and therefore said protestarits had ampletime to institute proceedings before the time to institute proceedings before the courts of Utah, which were and are open for the prosecution of the charges made in the past. If the protestants have sufficient evidence they should have established the guilt of the member from Utah as to the misdemeanor chargal and come here with a court bar him from the house, and on that subject the member from Utah has al-ready expressed his belief and present-id argument. The member from Utah

Col. Bryan's Opinion of the Pending Currency Measure.

Austin, Tex., Dec. 13.—In an interview today Mr. W. J. Bryan expressed himself upon the financial bill now before the house. He said:

"Following in the line of the president's message, congress is at present considering a bill that is an extremely bad measure. I refer to the financial bill now under discussion in the house. This bill is a very bad one indeed, it is a part of the gold standard people's plan, and I hope that it will be defeated. It should certainly never be permitted to pass the house, because it is not in the interest of democracy."

But the record of Kimberley should not obscure the fact that elsewhere in South Africa there are "infinite riches in a little room." For instance, the largest diamond known to exist was found at Jagersfontein, 80 miles away—a gem 'wo and a half inches long, one and a quarter inches thick and two inches wide, weighing 971 carats, or nearly half a pound avoirdupois. And in many parts of South Africa gold is plentiful, notably in the Witwaterstand region of the Transvaal. When the present war began, the Transvaal was yielding annually about 60 million dollars' worth of gold—or more than one-fifth of the world's production, of which, by the way, the United States is credited with nearly 60 millions.

Conservative authorities have estimated that carried down to a depth of four thousand feet, the Rand mines will yield in all more than three and a half billion dollars' worth of gold, of which almost a third will represent clear profit.

Desclee's Creation of Frou-Frou.

[Paris Cor. of Pall Mall Gazette.]

The Comedie Francaise has revived
"Froufrou," with Mile. Lara in the role of the heroine Gilberte. Mile. Lara is a charming actress, but it is taxing her powers somewhat highly to ask her to follow in the footsteps of an Aimee Desclee or a Sarah Bernhardt. The circumustances in which that part was created by Aimee Desclee were rather curious, and, perhaps, not very generally known. Mellhac and Halevy had finished their piece in 1885—three years, that is, before it was produced. This delay was not due to any doubt on the part of the theatrical managers of the merits of the comedy, but to the fact that its authors were at a loss for an autress to whom to intrust the principal part,
When writing their piece they hoped that Marie Delaporte would take the role of Gilberte, but for a long period
she was kept away from the stage by illness, and Melihac and Halevy could find nobody to take her place.

It was Alexandre Dumas fils who came to their rescue. They met him one evening on the Boulevard in a state

more miles than any other regiment during the war of the Rebellion. It captured an average of two and onecaptured an average of two and one-haif prisoners for each man in the regi-ment. The average age of the mem-bers of the regiment was 23 years. This was the first three year regiment to be mustered in and the last to be mustered out. The regiment furnished one major seneral, Fitzwarren, one brigadier gen-eral, Thompson. Lost no more men killed than the Twentieth Kunsax. The regiment mustered in during its service

Instinctively she raised her hand to brush away the invading insect or whatever it might be, and in so doing let go of her pocketbook that she was carrying in the pocket of her coat. It was only an instant, but it was long enough for the expert pickpocket to get in his work, and when she put her hand

Killed Two Americans of Prominence Without Cause.

HONDURAS NATIVES.

Without Cause.

New Orisans, Dec. 18.—It is reported here tonight from an apparently reliable source that two Americans of prominence were shot and killed last Monday in San Pedro, Spanish Honduras, the same liniand town where Frank Pears was murdered. The killing, as reported, was a particularly aggravated type, and this lact, together with the prominence of the victims, will doubtiess lead to apparite of the victims, will doubtiess lead to apparite of the city. Captain Lack Imboden and Wm. Gold were in their room at San Pesro when a native of prominence walked up to the door and without the least provocation opened fire. Captain Imboden was shot when a madive of prominence walked up to the door and without the least provocation opened fire. Captain Imboden was shot while after the shooting. The details of the killing as obtained are very meager. The shooting occurred last Monday and news of it was brought to this city by the steamship Breakwater, which touched at Bluefolds on her way home. If there was any old trouble by find the killing nothing could be learned of it. Captain Imboden was the son of the late General Imboden of Virginia, who was a noted confederate leader and who was a noted confederate lea CAUSED ROPER'S ARREST. Story of H. G Morris Who Was Instrumental In Exposing the Fraud.

New York, Dec. 13.—Osmer W. Roper, the Newark, N. J., "loan company" arrested by federal officals for violation violation of the postal laws, spent today in Jail. The case instrumental in bringing Roper into the tolis of the law was that of H. G. Morris of Olney, Illa, states attorney of Rockland county. After paying flot in the vain effort to get a loan of £500 he demanded his money back and took legal measures to get it. He did not get it, but he got the satisfaction of bearing of Roper's arrest. As in other cases, Roper seemed confident Morris could not get satisfaction and wrote him thus:

"Referring to your letters of the 4th and 17th instant, we have to advise you that the statements containing in your letter of the 4th are not in accordance with the facts, while it is our desire to correct any error which we may have made, yet it is not our desire to be held up or forced by threats to submit to any proposition which you may make."

The fellowing from the same letter, shows how Reper protected himself by the claborate machinery of his financial system:

"We will further add that the only way

the elaborate machinery of his financial system;

"We will further add that the only way to settle this majters is either to serve a notice that you desire to withdraw, or to have investment shares issued and the money credited on your horrowers shares applied on investment shares as we do not believe the board of directors will order any money pald out of the treasury except in accordance with the terms of the constitution."

Morris, however, refused to have dust thrown in his eyes and fought the case right up to Roper's arrest.

CUTTLEFISH INK.

The cuttlefish are caught in great numbers off this coast and are used as a bait for the conger ced, for which this part of the conger ced, for which this part of the world is cedebrated. The cuttlefish possesses no real mouth, but has a long cylindrical sucker with which it adheres firmly to the bait. The method of capturing the fish is as follows: A long line from which are suspended from two hundred to three hundred hooks balited with portions of pilchards (almost the only bait the cuttlefish will take) is let down into the sea and allowed to stop there for about half an hour; it is then drawn up and the cuttlefish are found hanging by means of their suckers to the bait.

The moment that they leave the water they eject with considerable force a great quantity of descublack, viscous substance which is about the consistency of treacle, and the stain made by it upon the clothes of the fisherman is permanent if it happen to fall upon them.

I had a conversation with one man who has several times received a full charges in his face, and he assured me that beyond the smell, which is most nauseous, he felt no inconvenience at all, no smarting or pain in his eyes, and no bad after effects.

If any of the liquid gets upon the nets [Cornwall letter in the London Leader.] my of the liquid gets upon the nets ift any of the liquid gets upon the nets it for them beyond repair unless it is washed off immediately. Another currious fact is that this fluid will not injure cloth in the slightest degree beyond making a permanent stain. One man told me that he had been used a jersey for several years which had been squirted all ever at different times by these cephalopods, but that except for the cloth being stained it was as good as ever.

When this 'ink' is ejected under water hangs in a sort of cloud and does not pread.
